

Grandmother Nature

Music and Lyrics Written - 7/04/09

This is our one chance(c), the science is clear (c/f), clean coal is dry water (c/g), (c/f) so why don't we hear (c)?

The sound in the distance, a deep hollow creak, with stubborn resistance, our future seems bleak.

It's grandmother's nature, rocking her chair, patiently watching the children out there.

Her days though are numbered, smoke in her eyes, is not what is causing, her groans and her cries.

Instead it is pain, from deep in her heart, the children's disdain, it tears her apart.

(Chorus)

Grandmother's warning (f) is a (g) natural (c) cry, "I've been here much longer than you..."

Grandmother's warning will cause her to die, and when she does (f) god rest her (g) soul,

And (f) may God (g) then bless (f) – You and I (c)

This home she has made us, since long before time, has started to break down, she's long past her prime.

Grandmother's nature, so wise past her years, has found in each challenge, how to persevere.

But this could be the big one, the wavering straw, on the back of the camel, our one fatal flaw.

We children our blinded, by here and by now, we're blind to the forest, and the trees too somehow.

So shout from the mountain, to all that can hear, a critical choice has drawn far far too near.

(Chorus)

This is our moment, grandmother for you, do we promise to listen? And do as you do?

You've put back as much, as you've taken away, a balancing act, to deposit and pay.

If we are ever, to thrive and sustain, a nature as grand as, your sun and your rain,

Then we must act on, the lessons you share, from inside this home, with the old rocking chair.

Climb up on the mountain (Csus4, then resolve), call with your soul (c/f → c/f7)

(Aminsus4→Amin) Summon each ounce, we can see the goal

Call out with vigor, shout high and low, Reach deep in history, just get up and go!

Go! (2,3,4) Go! (2,3,4...) etc. → (chant beneath the "Go's" ...)

We're pulling for you... Get up and go... Be the solution.... Get up and Go... Grandmother nature....Get up and go...Be the solution....Get up and go!
